

Laura is currently undertaking a PhD at the University of Sheffield. The work seeks to evaluate the acceptability of SDF, and assess the feasibility of conducting a trial on SDF in primary dental care and is funded by the NIHR. Laura has completed previous work involving children in SDF research, and has developed patient information videos and documentation with children, funded by the British Society of Paediatric Dentistry. She is an academic trainee in paediatric dentistry, completing the MPaed Dent examination in 2022.

