

Georgios Tsakos is Professor in Dental Public Health at UCL and Honorary Consultant in Dental Public Health with the National Health Service (CNWL NHS Foundation Trust) and with the Department of Health and Social Care (Office for Health Improvement and Disparities). He is Chair of the Platform For Better Oral Health in Europe and has served as President of the European Association of Dental Public Health and of the International Association of Dental Research (IADR) Behavioral Epidemiological and Health Services Research Group. He is involved in the work of the World Health Organisation (the UCL Dental Public Health Group is a WHO Collaborating Centre of Oral Health Inequalities and Public Health), and in World Dental Federation (FDI) programmes. His research is on:

Oral health inequalities and the social determinants of health

Subjective outcomes of oral health and quality of life

Oral health and healthy ageing; Associations between oral and general health.

He is part of the consortium for the national oral health surveys in the UK and currently leads NIHR funded research on the feasibility of the NICE guideline for oral health in older people in care homes.

